The single-temperature La Première, which can be set from 6-18°C, recreates the exact same conditions found in a natural cellar to mature your wines in the best possible conditions: controlled temperature, suitable humidity thanks the walls in embossed aluminium, constant ventilation, UV protection, extra protection from vibration owing to the actual design of the cabinet.

It has up to 10 temperature zones (temperature staggered from 5-20°C) and allows you to store several colours of wine (rosé, white and red) in one single cabinet close to the ideal serving temperature.
